Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church's 34th annual Crab Fest kicked of the Independence Day celebrations off in style last weekend, drawing thousands of participants despite some unfortunate bouts with thunderstorms.

"We were having a record day until the rain started," Crab Fest volunteer Christy Barnes said Sunday. "We completely sold out of crabs, so that's pretty good."

Crab Fest is OLG's biggest fund raiser each year, raising thousands of dollars for its many outreach programs. Each year, thousands of people from all over the Gulf South come to feast on fresh seafood, listen to live music from entertainers such as the Chee Weez and Category 6, and enjoy carnival rides.

Bay St. Louis man dies in Hwy. 90 crash near Lower Bay

Officers of the Mississippi Highway Patrol are investigating a fatal crash in Hancock County on Monday afternoon that occurred on Hwy. 90, near Lower Bay Road.

The accident occurred at about 1:50 p.m. Monday, according to a statement issued by MHP Cpl. Justin Elkins.

"Upon arriving, it appeared a 1994 Ford Ranger driven by a 62-year-old male of Bay St. Louis was traveling east on Highway 90," according to the release. "A 2004 Ford Ranger driven by an 80-year-old-male of Pearlington was traveling west on Hwy, 90, crossed the center line and crashed head on with the 1994 Ford Ranger."

The driver of the 2004 Ranger and the passenger of the 1994 Ranger were transported to Northshore Hospital in Slidell with serious injuries, Elkins said. The driver of the 1994 Ranger was pronounced dead at the scene from injuries suffered in the crash, he said.

Hancock County Coroner Jim Faulk said Tuesday that the man has been identified as David Wayne Pulliam.

Both drivers and the passenger of the 1994 Ranger were wearing seatbelts, Elkins said.

Waveland police ask public not to use guns as fireworks this Fourth of July

The Waveland Police Department is urging caution and safety this Independence Day -- specifically, by avoiding the use of firearms as fireworks.

Waveland Police Chief David Allen on Monday issued the following statement:

"The Waveland Police Department is asking the public for two things: First, please don't shoot your guns in the air during the 4th of July celebrations. We know, this seems like common sense and it's silly that we have to even mention it. However, it's still a problem quite often, especially around Fourth of July and New Years Eve."

Allen said his department had a recent case that illustrated the dangers of improper use of firearms for celebratory purposes.

"About a month ago, we had a stray bullet hit a house on Henderson Street," Allen said. "The bullet went through the roof and into the room of a young girl. Thankfully, she wasn't in there at the time. The person who fired the round was never located. Keep in mind, what goes up must come

Rising country star Frank Foster performs at 'Boggin' in the South' in Kiln this weekend

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

Rising country music star Frank Foster will make his triumphant return to Hancock County this Saturday, July 7, for the "Boggin' in the South" celebration at South Mississippi Offroad & RV Park in the Kiln.

"I'm really looking forward to seeing everybody down there again," Foster said in a telephone interview from Nashville last week.

Foster released his first album, "Rowdy Reputation," in 2011. He followed that up in 2012 with "Red Wings and Six Strings," which debuted on the Billboard Country Charts at number 30.

His third album, "Southern Soul," debuted at number 11 on the Billboard chart in 2013. "Rhythm and Whiskey," debuted at number 4 a year later, and 2016's "Boots on the Ground" gave him his second top 10 debuting album, entering at number 7. He released "Good Country Music" that same year, debuting at number 13.

He has another album coming out this September.

Foster said that though his fame has grown and he's had some success, he still strives to balance his work and family life.

"You've kinda gotta balance it out, my wife and my son, I need to be there for them.

With the fan base growing, of course you feel that pull to perform. As an artist, you always want to control that balance. … Every show's a little bit more stressful, but we love it, we'll never complain.

"It's always fun to perform for the crowds in Hancock County. I've actually been down there a few times. I played at Muddy Joe's," which is now known as South Mississippi Offroad. "This will be our third time there. I've also played the Hancock County Fair. That was a lot of fun."

Foster said he'll be backed once again by his five-piece band.

"I've been playing with the same guys for years," he said. "Good, bad or indifferent, it'll always be Frank Foster."

South Mississippi Offroad & RV Park is located at 27550 V Bar Road in Kiln.

Boggin' the South starts Wednesday, July 4, and continues through Saturday, with a fireworks show at 8 p.m. Foster will perform after the fireworks.

Hancock Supers talk Waterway District and storm shelters

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday heard a presentation from representatives with the Pat Harrison Waterway District.

According to the website, the Pat Harrison Waterway District is a "Mississippi state agency that provides camping, cabins, and recreational facilities in Mississippi and is responsible for managing the rivers and their tributaries along the Pascagoula River Basin in Southeastern and East Central Mississippi."

Donald Pittman with the Pat Harrison Waterway District said the agency operates about eight water parks and 60 holding lakes.

Waterway District Executive Director Hiram Boone said, the district, in addition to water park management, handles water management and flood control.

Boone said the works project committees meet once a month.

Greg Pitts said the board – on a monthly basis – can "present projects to us for consideration that deal with drainage, erosion."

"We would cost-share with the county at a 50-percent rate up to $25,000," Pitts said. "You can submit at least one project a month throughout the year. Just on an average basis, if you were to submit a project every month, you would get back about $300,000 a year that comes out of what you pay in by being members."

Pitts said the agency can also provide the county access to the USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service's funding.

Boone said the membership fees, by state law, are 7/8 of a mil.

Board attorney Gary Yarborough said that would be about $420,000 a year for Hancock County.

Boone said the agency could also promote McLeod Park.

The board took no action on the matter, but representatives from the agency expressed interest in scheduling future informational meetings with the board.

In other action:

Hancock County Emergency Operations Director Brian Adam told the board the special needs storm shelter – for those requiring medical attention – which was formerly supported by Hancock Medical Center, would not be supported by Ochsner.

Adam said he wasn't proposing the board vote on Monday, but told supervisors to consider making that shelter a general population shelter.

"We don't have the means to support it as special needs shelter and, plus, the state has a brand new shelter that we can send special needs patients to in Wiggins, if we have to."

Adam added that the state is establishing criteria for pet-friendly shelters. Adam said the county could look at designating the shelter on Hwy. 53 as such.

Adam said that Hancock Medical Center provided nurses and beds at the shelter, which is located across from West Hancock Elementary.

In order to keep that shelter designated as special needs, the county would need a hospital to support it, Adam said. He said he would reach out to other hospitals such as Memorial Hospital, Highland Community Hospital and Pearl River County Hospital to seek sponsorship.

Adam said he received the information "verbally" from an Ochsner representative, but would obtain something in writing for the board.

The State of the County address is scheduled for Aug. 29 at 6 p.m. at the Hancock Performing Arts Center, located at 7140 Stennis Airport Rd., Kiln.

The next supervisors meeting is scheduled for July 16 at 9 a.m.

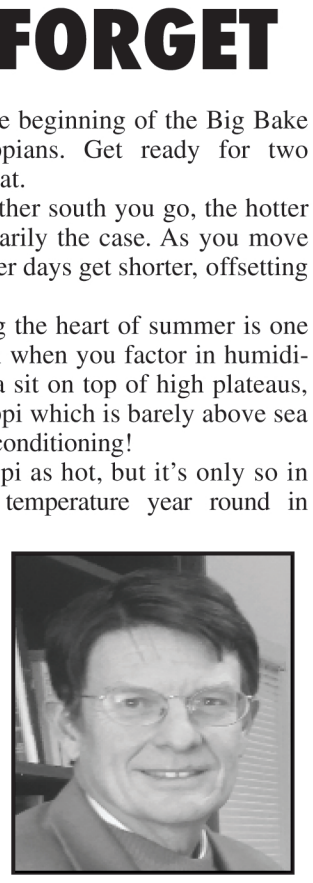
NEVER FORGET

July Fourth marks the beginning of the Big Bake for most Mississippians. Get ready for two months of humid heat.

Most people think the further south you go, the hotter it gets, but that's not necessarily the case. As you move toward the equator, the summer days get shorter, offsetting the more direct sun rays.

In fact, Mississippi during the heart of summer is one of the hottest places on earth when you factor in humidity. South America and Africa sit on top of high plateaus, but no such luck in Mississippi which is barely above sea level. Thank the Lord for airconditioning!

People think of Mississippi as hot, but it's only so in the summer. The average temperature year round in Mississippi is a pleasant 65 degrees fahrenheit.



Guest Opinion

by Wyatt Emmerich
Publisher Northside Sun

July Fourth is a good time to take stock of the state of our country and how it has lived up to its great promise when the Declaration of Independence was declared 242 years ago.

Through it all our country and Constitution have stood the test of time. Not perfectly, but better than any other country in history.

That's pretty impressive. Impressive enough for us modern-day citizens to take note of who our founding fathers were and what they did to achieve such monumental success.

All citizens of today need to understand the philosophy of our founding fathers so we can do our part to keep their brilliant creation alive and well.

Foremost, we need to remember that the men who signed the Declaration of Independence were signing, in all likelihood, their death warrant. Few expected our ragtag colony to prevail over the greatest power in the world. The punishment for treason was to be shot or hanged. These were successful men with families in the prime of life. This country was founded on the principle of personal sacrifice for a greater good, not just as a concept, but as something only fulfilled with one's own flesh and blood.

We need to pause on July the Fourth and remember that and think what it means for each of us today.

There were several basic themes dear to the hearts of our founding fathers. These themes are still relevant 242 years later.

Our founding fathers were nervous about centralized federal power, believing that local government would always be superior in the long run.

No other large nation has a decentralized government like the United States. Not only does this keep the government closer to the people, it provides a check on unlimited federal power, which can be dangerous.

In this day and age of mass communication, it is popular to look to the federal government as the solution. We must resist that temptation and keep government local.

The most important values to our founding fathers were political and economic freedom and liberty. Our country's emphasis on inalienable individual rights has set this country apart from any other in the world.

This means we are free to speak, write, do business, goof off, make millions and whatever else we please, so long as we don't hurt other people in the process.

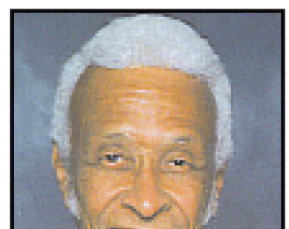
Federal tinkering undid black nuclear family



REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

by Fr. Jerome Ledoux, SVD

The near disintegration of the U.S. black nuclear family is a recurring theme because no one has given a connective summary of the main causes. It is shocking to hear that today's sub-30 percent black nuclear family is a modern phenomenon, for, even in the dark years of slavery, the black family was 66 percent. In her Journal of Marriage and the Family, Barbara F. Agresti noted in 1978 that, after emancipation in 1870 in Walton County, Florida, about 57 percent of black children lived with two parents. Only 15 years later, 89 percent of black families were nuclear. Or, as St. Clair Drake and Horace Cayton told us in Black Metropolis, in Chicago in the 1920s, it was considered a problem that just one in seven black children were born to single mothers. What's more, that number went down during the Depression, not up.

Are you aware that all this data flies in the face of the facile, almost smug answers given to the many queries about the causes of deterioration of the black nuclear family? Very rough inner-city living conditions, economic hardship, drugs, stark deprivation, unemployment and the failure of many black males to complete college studies and find a decent job are the standard answers given for the black nuclear family disintegration. These answers have some merit, of course.

However, the astounding fact is that most of these negative conditions – and worse – were present during slavery, and, despite all that, the black nuclear family survived to the tune of 66 percent and up to 89 percent just after emancipation. So, contrary to a false narrative one might hear of daily life in a black ghetto of the 1930s and 1940s, through Reconstruction, the Great Depression and the bitter civil rights struggle, right up to the Civil Rights Act of July 2, 1964, the nuclear black family held steady at 86 percent. In that entire stretch from 1880 to 1964, fewer than one in three black children nationwide did not grow up with two parents.

So what cataclysmic event happened in 1964? Driven by ideological reveries, President Lyndon Baines Johnson signed off on legislation introduced by him during the State of the Union Address on January 8, 1964. Nicknamed the War On Poverty, the legislation provided, among other things, that a needy black woman could be helped, provided there was no man in the house – a ghastly clause. Unfortunately, this "missing man provision" alienated unemployed husbands by encouraging them to leave in order that their

July is National Park and Recreation Month

Conservation Corner

by James L. Cummins
Wildlife Mississippi

Since 1985, America has celebrated July as National Park and Recreation Month, celebrating unbridled outdoor recreation and encouraging everyone to explore their local recreational facilities and parks in honor of summer and the beauty of nature.

The beginning of July marks a time of celebration, and often leads into a great summer of activities and programs for groups of all ages, such as hiking and fishing, educational and innovative fairs and festivals, park tours, and much more.

Designated in 1985 as National Park and Recreation Month by the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA), the month of July is ideal for groups and families to rediscover their local parks and visit new ones. Encouraging outdoor physical activity and actively promoting parks and recreation in communities across the country, the NRPA actively supports and promotes creative celebrations through their magazine Parks & Recreation, and encourages communities and townships to submit their own celebration and activity information.

The object of the NRPA and National Park and Recreation Month isn't just to encourage outdoor recreational activity and increase park visitation, but also to recognize and salute those who work in the parks system to make our park experience enjoyable and unforgettable. The beauty of a park can reside within our hearts and minds long after we have left, and children and adults alike will certainly enjoy the tranquility and peace of such natural serenity. We should consider the care and effort that goes into maintaining our parks by the vast number of park employees who dedicate themselves to the difficult but rewarding task of park maintenance.

You can check your park websites, or activity listings in your local papers, to find out what programs, festivals, and activities may be occurring in your area in honor of National Park and Recreation Month. Many communities celebrate enthusiastically with park pride days, nature festivals, park picnics, group hikes, community sports events, park beautification activities, and much more.

Outdoor recreation is a key factor of National Recreation and Parks Month, focusing on the need for physical activity, and what better place to enjoy physical activity than during the many beautiful summer days in the month of July. Although the many activities and celebrations can be overwhelmingly fun, the importance of physical activity should not be forgotten, and should especially be instilled in children and young adults.

The NRPA website, nrpa.org, contains more information and tools for communities to utilize in order to create their own list of activities and celebrations. Samples of proclamations and press releases are available for download, as well as a sample calendar of activities and important information to let everyone in the community know that July is National Recreation and Parks Month.

CASA of Hancock County's 5th Annual Poker Run

SEA COAST ECHO

CASA of Hancock County will hold its 5th Annual Poker Run presented by Gulf Coast Pools on Saturday, July 14, 2018. You can pre-register on Friday, July 6th at Lazy Magnolia Brewery or at Bay Marina from 5-8pm. Pre-registration will be also be offered the day before the event on Friday, July 13th at the Red Zone in Diamondhead, the Ugly Pirate in Bay St. Louis or Jordan River Steamer in Kiln. Day of registration will begin at 11am at the Bay St. Louis Harbor. All participants should be back at the BSL Harbor by 5pm. Additionally, CASA will hold a small silent auction with summer/outdoor themed items and drinks will be available for purchase.

"The Poker Run is a fun event that gets friends and families together to support the work of CASA in the community", states Mike Favre, Poker Run Chairman. CASA is encouraging the boating community, as well as local jeep clubs, car clubs, and motorcycle groups to participate this year. Participants purchase a poker hand for $20 and the best three poker hands get to select from amazing prizes.

This year's Poker Run stops include The Blind Tiger, Buoys Bar, Dan B's, Tripletails, Cuz's Old Town Oyster Bar, Bodega, the Ugly Pirate, Daiquiri Shak, Bay Marina, Broke Spoke, the Cannon's Camp on Jordan River, the Red Zone, Diamondhead Ship Store, Jordan River Steamer and the Bay St. Louis Harbor.

CASA of Hancock County is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization that utilizes trained community members to advocate for children who through no fault of their own are involved in the complex and overburdened child welfare and youth court systems.

CASA relies on the communities support to continue this work. Presently, 75 volunteers are advocating for 152 children however, an additional 90 children are unserved by CASA due to a lack of volunteers. CASA hopes to change this by recruiting and training at least 30 new volunteers in 2018. Although the program is comprised of volunteers, there are costs associated with screening, training and supporting volunteer child advocates. Monies raised from the poker run will ensure that the CASA program not only continues to exist but also expands to increase the number of children served.

New Law Provides Free-Look Period on GAP Waivers for Consumers in the Market for a Vehicle

SEA COAST ECHO

JACKSON, Miss. — People who buy a car and purchase a GAP waiver in Mississippi now have added peace of mind thanks to a new law championed by the Guaranteed Asset Protection Alliance (GAPA) that took effect Sunday.

This state law — enacted via Mississippi Senate Bill 2929 — establishes a 30-day free-look period on GAP waivers that will allow anyone to cancel his or her waiver and receive a full refund of the purchase price. This free-look period allows Mississippians ample time to understand the utility of their GAP waivers before fully committing.

"A GAP waiver is an important option for folks financing an automobile purchase as it can mean the difference between making payments on a vehicle you can't drive if you total it and having that debt waived," said Tim Meenan, Executive Director of GAPA. "Our association is proud to have played a role in the passage of this important legislation that protects consumers and fairly regulates the industry."

When a vehicle is totaled, there is often a difference between what auto insurance pays out to the borrower (value of the car) and the amount still owed on the finance agreement. A GAP waiver is an agreement between a borrower and finance company to cancel up to all of the existing debt after a total loss.

The new law also establishes new rules surrounding disclosure and cancellation of GAP waiver contracts. The law stems from GAPA's initiative to utilize the association's model act for authorizing GAP waivers in states all across the country.

Never

I am disturbed as I see more and more laws that infringe upon the basic freedoms and liberties of the Constitution. Our country is a country of personal choice and personal responsibility. Big Brother is completely anti-thetical to the founding philosophy of the United States.

Our founding fathers envisioned a religious country, a Christian country, but not one in which religion was forced on disbelievers. The recent court rulings trying to kill the slightest bit of religion in our schools are way off-base and have no legitimate basis in our Constitution.

Our founding fathers perceived a land of equal opportunity, not equal results. All men are created equal, but that doesn't mean they will end up equal. The difference is what you as an individual make of your life. It is that basic concept of reaping what you sow that has made our country great.

And our founding fathers were very concerned about the balance of powers between the executive, legislative and judicial branch of government. We must always be vigilant lest one branch of the government try to wrest power from the other two.

Of course, the founding fathers did not, at the time, include women and slaves in their designs. This was a glaring omission that stuck out like a sore thumb from the start. But our great nation was able to overcome that handicap and include women peaceably and African Americans through a bloody civil war.

There is one thing I don't think even our founding fathers envisioned. I don't think they envisioned the incredibly creative dynamo that would be created by the infusion of dozens of different cultures from around the world into the great melting pot called the United States of America.

We Americans kicked and crawled and scraped our way here on the hope of a better life. There is not an American here that doesn't have that kind of blood flowing in his/her veins. It is that one trait that binds all Americans, regardless of our national origin. We must never forget that.

Reflections

wives could receive federal financial aid. Eventually, many black husbands did not return home. That trap quickly sent the black nuclear family into a death spiral, as the 86 percent level of black family nuclear units fell sharply to below 30 percent by 2018, causing 7 unwed mothers in 10 black births.

Mind-blowing and thoroughly upsetting, these awful statistics tell the dirty story that, while all the negatives of slavery and tough post-slavery racist decades failed to collapse the black nuclear family, myopic, ideological federal tinkering and blundering engineered that dreaded outcome in less than 4 decades.

Sociologist Daniel Patrick Moynihan famously pinpointed the tragic plight of the black family in his report on "The Negro Family" on August 25, 1969. After three months of heavy research with his aides, he noted that family breakdown "flows from centuries of oppression and persecution of the Negro man. It flows from the long years of degradation and discrimination, which have attacked his dignity and assaulted his ability to produce for his family."

But, despite his accuracy and eloquence in pinpointing those problems,

Moynihan failed to connect the dots that had been supplied in abundance by the federal government's almost childish tinkering with welfare monies and ideological, sociological experiments. These dots are found in the portion of the War On Poverty that mandates the missing man proviso for aiding needy black women. That federal aid has come at the deadly expense of crippling the black nuclear family.

A major rise in violent crime in Chicago started in the late 1960s. It is not at all coincidental that this major rise in violent crime began several years after the black nuclear family began to unravel in 1964 because of the destructive missing man clause.

Before then, the very presence of solid family units translated into strong neighborhoods where drug dealers and other criminals were intimidated by close-knit, unified, assertive neighbors who did not hesitate to do whatever was necessary to safeguard their homes.

Chicago is cited here, because, more than any other city, it has been on the negative side of crime and shady statistics, and is a dread testimonial to the immorality and crime that rush into the moral vacuum left by disintegrating black nuclear families.

the nation-wide "Families Belong Together" day of action to protest the separation policy. There were more than 710 events in all 50 states and in Washington D.C.

Ramsey said she was proud of her Mississippi neighbors for getting involved.

"It's like South Mississippi gets left out of everything -- we moan, we groan, we complain, and then that's it. This is the first time Bay St. Louis has been included in a national-level march, and we got support from all over the state.

"We had nuns, we had families, we had black and white and Hispanic people show up to march with us. … At the very end of the march, we had three little Hispanic ladies show up. They finished the walk and they were so kind and they thanked me in Spanish and they were in tears. I can't tell you how that touched me.

"They were terrified (of what might happen to them), but they came out and they marched. … That's really sad, that they were so scared, but that's who we've become."

Ramsey said the ultimate goal of the civil actions across the country is to send a message to the Trump administration to permanently end family separation and reunify people with their children.

THE SEA COAST ECHO SPORTS

Common Factor: Using plenty of live bait

SHORE THING
FISHING REPORT
by Capt. Sonny Schindler

The fishing has still been amazing the past couple of days, and looks like it should stay that way for the next several weeks. The early morning speckled trout bite has been incredible. The red fishing in the marsh has been very steady. Our boats are still seeing triple tails regularly as well.

All seven our boats have been scattered from Lake Borgne to Cat Island, fishing different areas, and using different techniques. The one common factor that ALL of our boats have in common is having plenty of LIVE BAIT.

Getting live bait this time of year is not a problem. Shrimp, croakers, cocahoes have been at just about every bait shop along the coast. The problem most folks have regarding live bait, is taking care of it. From the time you get your bait, till the second a fish bites it, you need to baby it. This means you should handle the bait as little as possible. If you are scooping bait, try to scoop as few as possible. A net full of bait looks cool, but all those critters crammed in a small net are poking each other, and stressing each other out. This big scoop of bait does nothing but cause them to eventually kill each other. If you only need one bait, just try and scoop up one bait.

If you are putting bait on a hook, handle them with care. Try not to squish them, just use the softest grip you can. When casting live baits, its not about how hard you can throw it, it's about where you can cast it. Distance is nice, but a gently launched cast will keep your bait active when it hits the water. When retrieving a live bait, bring them in a little slower. Burning a live bait in, will knock the life right out of it.

Keep in mind to, the temperatures most days hit 100 degrees. You really need keep your bait as cool as possible. Making sure your live well pumps are circulating properly is key. If you are holding bait, just keeping it in the shade will do wonders. If you have or dead bait in your live well, GET IT OUT OF THERE. Dead bait will mess up your water, and kill your bait quicker than anything. Its called live bait, so keep it alive, until you can give it a noble death. Let that live bait work for you.

As always, have fun and be safe.

Johnson. The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre Guild chose this play as the 2018-2019 season opener. "Excellent.....Highly atmospheric, visceral, and triumphant." – The Stage. This is a Dinosaur!

A Tyrannosaurus to be exact. T-Rex was a large, ferocious meat eating creature which became extinct 65 million years ago as the result of the impact of a large meteorite.

Newspapers are NOT dinosaurs!

Radio. Then television. Later cable news. Now social media. Each one in its time was rumored to be the end of newspapers. Hasn't happened.

Advertise your business on social media sites and your friends might see it.
Put that message in the newspaper and the entire community will see it.
Which one do you really think will get the best results?

DWGAN Golfing News from June 2018

BY SHIRLEY HALTERMAN

Well, it is definitely June in Diamondhead, Mississippi! One minute it is 99+ degrees and the next it is pouring rain. And remember, during half of this month it wasn't even officially summer. Don't you jus love our weather patterns?

On the first Tuesday of June, our usual Trophy Day, sadly we were rained out.

Not to be deterred, we ventured out on the following Tuesday to play the game "Putter + 2 Clubs." Since this was a Scramble format with three players in each team, strategy is everything. But, once again, Mother Nature prevailed, and we only managed to get in 2 or 3 holes when she decided the fairways needed watering and down came the rain not to mention the thunder and lightening. Now a little rain doesn't usually stop us but that "thunder & lightening" thing is something else. So, back to the Clubhouse we scooted to wait to play another day.

Tuesday, June 19th, - while a bit toasty - turned out to be a good day to play. This day's game was called, "Mulligan Day." In this format you play nine holes and may take one Mulligan (or do-over) during the play. But, choose wisely because once you have used your Mulligan you may not have another. Those who chose wisely were: First Flight: 1st Place = Ann Nutting, 2nd Place = Linda DeParto, and 3rd Place = Pat VanDervort. Second Flight: 1st Place = Beryl Laird, 2nd Place = Jerry Ingraham, and 3rd Place = Dinah Knobloch. And in the Third Flight: 1st Place = Carole Griffin, 2nd Place = Mary Mizell, and 3rd Place = Marsha Biestek. In addition, Judi Brannan (Hole #2) and Theresa Mauterer (Hole #6) had Birdies. Not to be left out, Marsha Biestek (Hole #8) and Carol Wyrosdick (Hole #7) scored Chip-Ins. Congratulations Gals!

On the final Tuesday of June we were blessed with good, all though a bit warm, weather; and we played a traditional person scramble. Amazing - no rain, no thunder or lightening! The First Place Team consisted of Shirley Halterman, Dinah Knobloch, Pat VanDervort plus a GHOST. The Second Place Team included Marsha Biestek, Sylvia Corban, Beryl Laird, and Theresa Mauterer. Our Third Place group was made up of Judi Brannan, Linda DeParto, Carole Griffin and Fran Smith. Good job gals!

Hopefully, we will fare better weather wise during the month of July. Sure hope

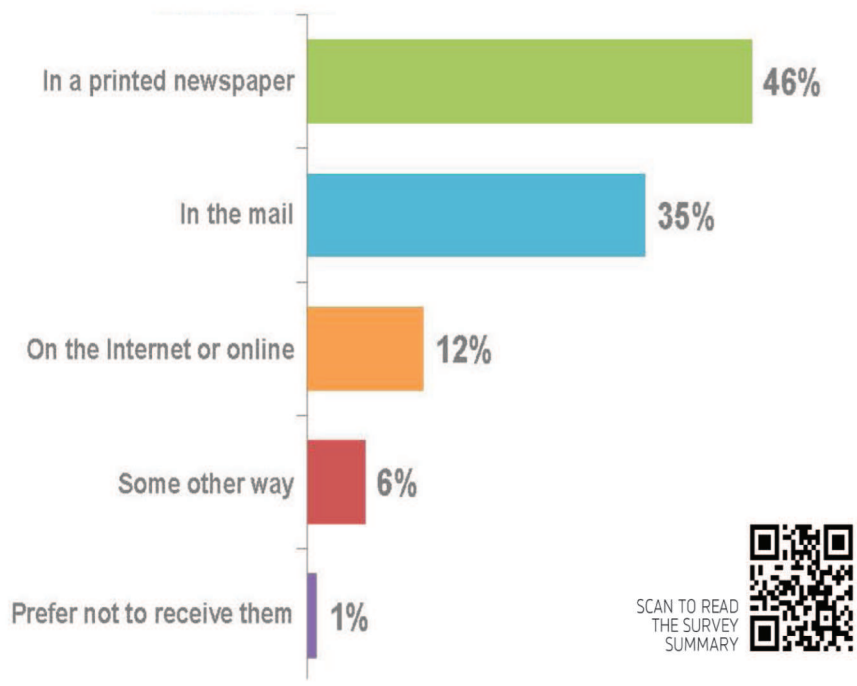
The government's business is your business.

And Mississippians count on their newspapers to keep apprised of public notice advertising.



SCAN TO READ THE SURVEY SUMMARY

Half of Mississippi adults recall reading or seeing public notice advertising in a local or state newspaper.

And almost half (46%) of adults who have seen public notice advertising prefer to receive them in a printed newspaper, much higher than any other source.

Most Mississippians (87%) say keeping the public informed through public notices and legal advertising is an important requirement for government agencies. And the preferred method of receiving these notices is in a printed newspaper along with their associated websites.

According to a 2013 Advertising and Media Use Survey*, legal ads in printed newspapers have a much higher credibility than other media.

Over 1.5 million Mississippians read their local newspaper. Whether in print, online or on the go, newspapers are the leading source of information for Mississippi.

Hem Fest in Spain Hits Waveland

New feature is the No Bull Fun Run

SEA COAST ECHO

This year HEM FEST goes to SPAIN and will feature two signature events: the Patron Party and Running of the Bulls to benefit the Ground Zero Hurricane Museum in Waveland.

On Friday, July 20 from 7-10pm, dance the night away to Spanish tunes by Flamenco guitarist Shan Kenner. Live the full life as you indulge in a "moveable feast" of cuisine and signature cocktails on the 119th Birthday of Ernest Hemingway at the Waveland Civic Center. Celebrate the life of this Pulitzer Prize-winning author who left a powerful legacy for his zest for life, literary accomplishments and enduring affection for the islands.

"Events that celebrate Hemingway's legacy can be found throughout the United States and for the second year we are bringing this to Waveland through our own signature celebration," said LiLi Stahler Murphy, Chairman of the Ground Zero Hurricane Museum.

During his Key West residence, Hemingway wrote some of his most enduring works and spent his leisure hours fishing and socializing with local and literary cohorts. "Each year, we want to invite fans of his writing and exuberant lifestyle to come together in Waveland for HemFest to celebrate his life," said Starr Chapman, co-owner of The Rum Kitchen there.

Ernest Hemingway once said, never confuse movement with action and with this in mind, Starr and her husband Chappy are preparing a tantalizing four course moveable feast of the delicacies of Spain that also feature signature cocktails with each course.

The event also offers guests a tempting "cigar lounge" and for those who can, enter the Hemingway look-a-like contest to win some exciting prizes. Literary buffs can expand their library with titles from Bay Books, and the work of Artist Scharonne Herrington will be featured in a live auction.

Advance tickets are $66 per person or $119 for two and are limited to the first 250 patrons. At the door, tickets are $75 per person or $140 for two.

On Saturday, July 21 HEM FEST IN SPAIN continues with the RUNNING OF THE BULLS. This NO BULL FUN RUN is for all ages. Participants are invited to wear their best whites and red scarf and run with the special roller bulls and referees from the Civic Center to a route around Waveland streets and back to the finish line at the Civic Center for the After Party.

Advance registration for the Fun Run is $25 per person or $35 on the day of the event. On-site registration opens at 5:30pm at the Waveland Civic Center at 335 Coleman Avenue. The one mile Fun Run will start at 6:30pm with the After Party following at 7:00pm. There will be prizes for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners. Whether you run or not, come to the after party which features Spanish music, paella by The Rum Kitchen, sangria and cold brew, a full bar, a cigar bar and more.

Register on line for both events through the Hancock Chamber of Commerce. Go to www.hancockchamber.org, click on the events calendar and then go to July 20 for the HemFest in Spain party and July 21 for the No Bull Fun Run.

To find out more, contact Linda Aiavolasiti at 228-216-0561 or linda@wavelandgroundzero.com or LiLi Stahler Murphy at 228-243-3235 or lilistahler@gmail.com.

Your contribution less benefit received of $35 per person for the Patron Party and $15 per person for the Fun Run is tax deductible to the extent allowed by law. The Ground Zero Hurricane Museum is a fund of the Hancock Community Development Foundation, a 501 c 3 nonprofit established by the Hancock Chamber to enhance economic development and quality of life.
